INDEX TO VOL. II.

Page

Amputation of the Lower Jaw, by G. M'Clellan, - - - 152

Anatomical Investigations, by J. D. Godman, - - - - - 9

Artemesia Vulgaris, use of, - 137

Atkins' Dudley, M. D. Case of Spontaneous Dislocation of the Os Humeri, - - - 367

Analecta—Dr. Gometz on the Tænifuge Properties of the Pomegranate-root. Despe-retz on Animal Heat. Menstruation through the nipples of the mammæ. On the presence of water in the lungs of drowned persons. Diagnosis between Iritation and Inflammation of the mucous membranes of the Bronchiæ. Fatal Asthma from affection of the Glottis. Practical Observations on Mercurial Fumigation. Connexion between the anterior lobes of the brain and the motions of the tongue. Sense of Smell independent of the Olfactory Nerves. Reproduction of the Crystalline Lens. Unnatural growth of the bones of the Cranium. Bloody tumour of the Abdomen. Death from Acupuncturation. On the Sensibility of the Nerves of the Senses. On the Galvanic Phenomena which accompany the Acupuncturation. Rupture of the Spinal Marrow. Unusual appearance of the blood. Strangulation of a portion of the small intestines. On the use of the Oil of Croton in Inflammation of the Bowels. Various morbid alterations in Newborn Infants. Use of the Kali Hydriodinici in Cutaneous Cancer. The use of the Rhus Toxicodendron in palsy of the limbs. Large Calculus passed from the female Urethra. Extirpation of the Clitoris. On closure of the pupil in Iritis. Remarks on the Medicinal properties of the Croton-oil. Employment of Caustic to desroy the Variolous Eruption, 170

Case of Uterine Hemorrhage, in which the operation of Transfusion was successfully performed. Origin of the Spinal nerves. Chyle in the Veins of the Jejunum. Remarks on the "Living Skeleton." Of the Mucous Membrane of the Stomach and Bowels, in the state of Health and Inflammation, &c. Cause of Barrenness in Prostitutes. Removal of a great portion of the Scapula. Case of Uterine Hemorrhage, successfully treated by the operation of Transfusion. On the Effects of Loss of Blood. Successful Case of High Operation for the Stone. Non-Contagious Nature of Yellow-Fever. Alteration in the bones of the Head. Dropsy of the Epiploon, in a Fœtus of Eight Months. Encrysted Tumours of the Abdomen. Aneurismal Diathesis. Softening of the Stomach, 378

Blue-stain, or Pinta of Mexico, account of, by S. M'Clellan, M. D. - - - - 164

	Page
Butter, on Irritative Fever,	325
Classification of Anatomy, by N. R. Smith, M. D.	131
Dewees on Treatment of Children,	270
Digestion, Supplement to Essay on, by N. R. Smith, M. D.	105
Dunglison Robley, M. D. On Diseases of Children,	257
Ergot, Hall on the Effects of,	372
Fractures of the Femur, Remarks on, by N. Smith, M. D.	140
——— of the Leg, by do. do.	35
Fracture of the Skull, case of, by C. Hall, M. D.	150
Fracture of the Femur, requiring Amputation, by S. C. Gwinner, M. D.	362
Iodine, Manson on,	288
Irritative Fever, Butter on,	325
Jaw, Amputation of,	152
Miner on Typhus Syncopalis,	46, 219
Observationum Medicarum Summa, Autore, Lud. Josepho Schmidtman,	68
Observations on Artemesia,	137
——— on Fractures,	140
——— Introductory, to Anatomy and Physiology,	341
Œsophagus, Instrument for removing Obstructions from, by N. Smith,	168
Pinta, or Blue-stain,	164
Puchelt on the Venous System,	31
Reproduction of Bones, Cases Illustrating, by G. M'Clellan,	152
Spleen, Case of Diseased, by D. E Deming, M. D.	358
Typhus Syncopalis,	46
Tetanus, Essay on, by J Swan.	197
Transactions of Associated Apothecaries,	87